

CALL FOR CONTRIBUTION

PACIFIC FUTURES

DIGITAL STUDENT RESEARCH WORKSHOP

Preparing our region for the next pandemic: Australia, New Zealand, South Pacific Islands countries and territories

The question

- How should the South West Pacific prepare and respond to the next pandemic? How has COVID-19 affected the lives of communities and societies within the Pacific region - culturally, environmentally, financially, geopolitically, and socially?
- We'd like your responses to these questions based on your area of study. Discussions we are interested in include: evolving inequalities, scientific enquiry, civil society and justice, cultural and linguistic evolutions, business, and media.

What's in it for me?

- Build your resume and gain international experience, contribute to an international scientific publication, the ability to network with leading researchers and students in the South Pacific, and the winner receives $AU200

Who should apply?

- Any Discipline | Any Language
- Final Year Undergraduate Students
- Honours Students
- Current Masters Students

How to contribute?

- Submit a 200-word summary of your proposed topic to Pacific.Futures@navitas.com
- Submissions close 6 June 2021

FRIDAY 25 JUNE (local time)

09h - 12h	Noumea		08h - 11h	Sydney
9h - 12h	Port Vila		10h - 13h	Auckland
10h - 13h	Mata-Utu		12h - 15h (day before)	Papeete
11h - 14h	Apia		9h - 12h	Honiara
10h - 13h	Suva		8h - 11h	Port Moresby

This project is funded by the Australian-French Association for Research and Innovation

